Dear Bob:

I am delighted to hear the good news about your new assignment.

Forgive me for being so unresponsive to your two letters to me. They hit me at a time when I was snowed and felt inadequate to give you any thought-out, constructive advice. In any event, this new assignment seems a natural.

Our people would like very much to get together with you to discuss matters of mutual interest. As the time approaches for your transfer, please give this office a call and we'll be glad to arrange a briefing for you.

Please plan to come by to see me, too, before you go.

Sincerely,
